

Across

- 9 None of the above choice? (5)
- 10 Permission to throw it all away, possibly (9)
- 11 Lady ran around to obtain badge holder (7)
- 12 Sounds like a healthy greeting to Mr Wilder (7)
- 13 Stunned US lawyer getting last letter (5)
- 15 Devoted lady in an unusual position (3)
- 16 Remove head from harm, leaving just a limb (3)

- 17 Somewhat aghast about the state of matter (3)
- 19 Issigonis's contribution to the taxi industry? (7)
- 20 A bit of the precursor of 6 down (3)
- 23 Theresa, Brian or Maggie might! (3)
- 24 Outlaw likely to conceal boring tool (3)
- 25 Hair colour may be akin to Mickey or Minnie (5)
- 27 Gala Mam rearranged as a filler (7)
- 29 Sailor loves changing excuse (7)
- 32 Virile types in Venice ousting NI force (9)

- 33 Try to find water - to put the fire out perhaps? (5)

Down

- 1 We all put something into the game (4)
- 2 Don't see Nietzsche worrying about curtain fabric! (6)
- 3 Region in the Far East? (4)
- 4 I see newspaperman making very cold drink (4)
- 5 Michael can somehow describe machinery (10)
- 6 Amphibian might get legless in France! (4)

- 7 Pause for a popular pest with no end (8)
- 8 Stand-in for monarch is a somewhat sombre gentleman (6)
- 13 Sounds like an appropriate name for chap who created a hole (3)
- 14 Vadim lying isn't seen in a good light (5)
- 15 It's attractive to bailiffs! (10)
- 16 Extract from egg-white to keep stamps in? (5)
- 18 Soothe; myth pays off! (8)

- 21 Reportedly, all things considered at the end of it (3)
- 22 Somehow averts leaving hungry (6)
- 26 Dotty pair in German (6)
- 28 Round head of moor is jolly high (4)
- 29 Where gentlemen in England were on St Crispin's day, thinking themselves accursed (4)
- 30 Thus, US lawyer finishes fizzy drink (4)
- 31 What's left of the mountain when most of the rest is taken away (4)